ASSOCIATION OF PLUMBING
& HEATING CONTRACTORS LIMITED

APHC Ltd. Seminar Event 1 May 2013 | National Motorcycle Museum, Birmingham

The Association of Plumbing & Heating Contractors Ltd. in association with its supplier partners is hosting a series of FREE seminar presentations which aim to shed light on important changes that will effect plumbing and heating businesses in the coming year.

The event is being held in response to a number of queries from installers asking about a variety of industry wide changes expected to come into force this year. The event will feature three topical seminars presented by industry experts combined with a mini trade exhibition including some of our leading supplier partners to the trade.

Seminar Topics:

- Introducing a Business Quality Management System:

Typical in-company procedures required of small businesses as part of accreditation arrangements under business approval schemes. Speaker - Graeme Dryden, APHC Ltd.

- Building Regulations (part G & L) updates. Speaker - Martyn Bridges, Worcester Bosch

- WaterSafe - the new Water Regulations Scheme. Speaker - Phill Mills, WRAS

Timings:

The event opens at 3pm with refreshments and a chance to look around the mini exhibition in conjunction with our supplier partners. The first of three 45 minute seminars will commence at 4pm. The seminars will finish at approximately 6:30pm followed by a buffet and networking opportunities with more time to look around the mini trade exhibition and talk to our suppliers partners. The event will close at approximately 8pm.

Location:

The event is being held at the National Motorcycle Museum, near the NEC in Birmingham (off junction 6, M42). Free and ample parking is available at the venue.
